

DSC's Escort™ Turns Your Customer's Telephones Into Remote Keypads!

Now your customers can control their DSC security system from any touch-tone telephone, anywhere — from their office, their car, or a world away when they're on vacation. DSC's Escort Voice Assisted Security Control option makes the security system far more convenient to use.

Gone are those nagging worries, "Is my system on or off?" No more rushing home to let tradesmen in. No more false alarms when the cleaning lady comes.

All good reasons to have Escort, but that's not all.

Escort's "voice prompts" over the telephone are so clear and concise that many customers may prefer using Escort even when they're at home — using a telephone instead of a normal keypad and letting Escort "talk" them through the use of their system.

Escort is a sure way to ring your customer's bell and ring up extra sales. So be sure to add Escort to your next proposal.
